SHORT CHARGES HE IS BEING MADE "SCAPEGOAT" FOR THE PEARL HARBOR SNEAK ATTACK

Retired Hawaiian Commander Says Superior Officers "Passed the Buck" to Him Until Inquiry "Forced Revelation of Facts"

GIVEN FIRST OPPORTUNITY TO BE HEARD IN PUBLIC

Washington, Jan. 22—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short contended today that the war department in four years of silence had attempted to single him out as "the scapegoat for the disaster" at Pearl Harbor.

In a 13,000-word statement placed before the senate-house investigating committee, the retired Hawaiian army commander said his superior officers in Washington had "passed the buck" to him until the congressional inquiry "forced the revelation of the facts."

Short asserted the war department had "four years to admit" it should have acted before December 7, 1941, on his November 27 report that he had alerted his troops only against sabotage. But the first "admission of responsibility," he said, came from Gen. George C. Marshall, former chief of staff, and Lt. Gen. L. T. Gerow, former war plans head, in the current hearings.

30 New Vets' Hospitals Are On Program

Washington, Jan. 22—(AP)—

Congress today was asked to provide funds for a 10 percent increase in Veterans Administration hospital beds and nearly $20,000,000 for alterations and service additions to existing hospitals.

The house appropriations committee made the requests public in reporting out the 1947 independent offices appropriations bill.

Under its proposed program for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, the Veterans Administration wants to build 30 new hospitals in 20 states and construct additions to four others at a cost of about $13,500,000.

These new facilities with changes in the 1946 program would add 13,422 permanent beds for veterans in the nation, or a total of 142,000. The VA estimates it then will have about half as many permanent beds as will be needed when the anticipated peak of veteran hospitalization is reached.

The agency believes this peak will come in 1970.

In addition to the 30 new hospitals and the other bed-increasing projects included in its 1947 budget estimates, the agency asked $19,774,500 for a variety of improvements in 79 existing hospitals.

These requests were all that were carried by the bureau of the budget out of a total of $400,140,741 in requests originally made by the VA.

Ford Co. Ready To Make a New Offer

Detroit, Jan. 22—(AP)—The Detroit News said today that the Ford Motor Company will offer the United Auto Workers (CIO) another wage increase shortly which is expected to set a formula for the settlement of the wage disputes now gripping the nation.

The newspaper said high company and union sources said the new offer would probably be 18 1/2 cents an hour, paralleling President Truman's recommendations in the steel dispute.

Ford's latest offer to the union was 17 1/2 cents an hour while the UAW has been holding out for 19 1/2 cents. Ford and union negotiations scheduled to be resumed today.

The UAW-CIO was believed mapping further strategy today in view of General Motors' refusal to accept a compromise 19 1/2 cents wage increase proposal.

The deadline for GM's acceptance of the smaller figure, recommended by President Truman's fact-finding board, was set by the union for Monday midnight and passed without comment from either side.

Drive For Hospital Fund To Be Launched Tonight at YW

The real work of the Warren General Hospital Campaign begins tonight at the Y. W. C. A. at 7:30 o'clock. General Chairman Eaton will send his large soliciting organization into all parts of Warren and Warren county to collect $400,000 with which to erect the new buildings for the hospital.

Following a program by the High School Orchestra, invocation will be given by the Rev. Nore Gustafson, and Mr. Eaton will then launch the campaign. He will introduce Dr. William M. Cashman, who will tell the workers what a modern hospital really is and also relate some of his war-time experiences in hospital service.

Although no reports will be made until the first report meeting, which is to be on Thursday, January 24, it is known that the Advanced Gifts Committee has been meeting with great success and will have quite a few surprises when it makes its report. But to the hundreds of workers, tonight's meeting will mean the beginning of eight days' hard work.

Four hundred thousand dollars is the largest sum ever attempted to be raised in Warren for philanthropic purposes, and Chairman Eaton will impress upon the workers the need for intensive and extensive solicitation. There is no doubt he will use the famous expression "the last $100,000 is the hardest."

The Residential Division under Mrs. E. G. Hamilton will receive its equipment with the necessary instructions; other Divisions have lined up their respective duties and in some cases have begun solicitation. This applies particularly to the Industrial Employees where there is a large field to cover.

Campaign Headquarters reports that there is every indication of a successful campaign as the organization perfected by Mr. Eaton is working very smoothly.

The campaign is scheduled to close on January 31 with report meetings on the 24th, and 28th; all meetings to be held at the Y. W. C. A. at 7:30 p. m.

SEIZURE OF MEAT INDUSTRY IS CONSIDERED

Bows Out

The official reason given for the resignation of Gen. Charles De Gaulle, above, as president of France, was his refusal to accept a 20 per cent cut in military expenditures. But the fundamental reason is said to be his battle with French left-wing organizations over their efforts to reduce the post of president to a secondary position in the proposed new constitution.

Great Powers Given Test In Civil Strifes

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

London, Jan. 22—(AP)—A full-scale test of the ability of the great powers to cooperate within the United Nations Organization developed today from Soviet requests that the Security Council investigate and take measures against the maintenance of British troops in Greece and Java.

Officials privately agreed that this move by delegates representing the Soviet Union and the Ukraine, coupled with earlier charges made by Iran against the Russians, had ended the honeymoon period of the U.N.O.

American delegates were playing down talk of a crisis in the United Nations Organization, but it was apparent the organization was confronted with some of the toughest problems it could be asked to meet. Some Americans said privately the United States was moving into a middle man position between Russia and Britain.

The complaints, filed with the Security Council last night, accused Britain of endangering world peace and interfering with the internal affairs of Greece and Java. They came as a complete surprise to British, Greek and Dutch delegates, as well as others.

Observers said the twin moves by the Soviet Union and Soviet Ukraine undoubtedly posed the greatest test yet faced by the United Nations Organization, which already had been handed the explosive Russian-Iranian dispute.

They also constitute the first instance of action by one member of the 11-nation Security Council against another member. In weighing the moves, some officials emphasized that the new peace agency's success depended largely upon unity among the major powers.

There was no immediate official comment from the British.

Some United States sources said they were not alarmed by the developments, although officials had hoped to avoid major issues while the U.N.O. remained in its formative stage.

British troops were sent into Greece last year on the grounds that occupation of the country was necessary to the war effort.

HIGHWAY DEATH

Lancaster, Jan. 22—(AP)—M. Luther Yientig, 18, of Maytown, died last night of injuries suffered in an automobile accident Saturday night. A friend W. B. Bowers, 16, of Marietta, was killed when their car missed a turn on a railroad bridge and crashed through a guard rail 25 feet to the tracks.

British Attitude in Java is Outlined

London, Jan. 22—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee, answering Soviet charges before the United Nations Organization, told commons today that the British aimed only at "an amicable settlement" between the Dutch government and Indonesian Nationals in J. a.

Attlee said if any "fuller statement" was required it would have to come from Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

The prime minister spoke in answer to questions from Laborite Tom Driberg and Conservative Capt. L. D. Gammans. Gammans had demanded a "fuller statement" of the situation and an opportunity for discussion in commons."

Attlee said the Java situation appeared improved, adding that he had conversations between Dr. H. J. Van Mook, acting governor general of The Netherlands East Indies, and Indonesian nationalists would be resumed shortly.

FRENCHMEN STARVED BY NAZI RULERS

Deaths of 150,000 Alleged To Have Been Result of Diet and Looting During Occupation

ARMISTICE "SCRAPPED"

Nuernberg, Jan. 22—(AP)—A French prosecutor charged today that a starvation diet and privations resulting from Nazi looting had caused the death of at least 150,000 Frenchmen, contributed to thousands of other deaths and undermined the nation's health for years to come.

The Frenchman, Charles Gert-hoffer, told the international military tribunal trying 22 leading Nazis that the crime of starving entire populations "is not less odious" than those of deportations, murders and massacres.

He quoted reports showing that the daily ration of food in France fell as low as 850 calories daily at a time when millions of tons of foodstuffs were being shipped into Germany.

The French-German armistice of 1940 was just another "scrap of paper" to the Nazis when their occupying forces set out to control France's wealth and economic resources, the French prosecutor charged.

Gerthoffer told the tribunal the Germans deliberately distorted the terms of the armistice to gain control of French industry and put the nation's production at the disposal of the Nazi war machine.

"Simultaneously, by ruse and by violence, they attempted to cloak their criminal actions behind a mask of legality," he said. "To do this they flagrantly abused the armistice conventions."

Earlier, the prosecution presented a report showing that the Germans seized the bulk of Belgium's huge textile output after the occupation and then purchased the machinery at forced sales and bargain rates.

To aid their economic pillage of Belgian industry, Prosecutor Henri Delpech asserted, the Nazis closed plants "useless for the objective of war."

150 Hostages Held By Greek Monarchists

By L. S. CHAKALES

Athens, Jan. 22—(AP)—A strong force of well-armed monarchists, barricaded with 150 hostages in a mountain village 100 miles southwest of Athens, was reported today to have defied the government to carry out the terms of a "surrender or face attack" ultimatum which becomes effective at 4 p. m.

The government said the monarchists, reported to number 2,200 men, had killed 14 hostages in answer to the ultimatum.

As the 4 p. m. deadline approached, government reinforcements were moving into nearby Kalamai (Kalamata), Peloponnesus port city, where the same group of royalists battled police and seized the civilian hostages in bloody fighting Sunday and yesterday.

The political situation was complicated by an announcement by the KKE, political bureau of the left wing party, urging the people to proclaim a general strike and take up arms. The statement also accused the British of arming right wing elements and thus causing "monarcho-fascist terrorism in Greece."

Order finally was restored in Kalamai after the port had been placed under martial law and the Greek destroyer Crete had opened fire on the monarchists.

Government estimates originally placed the number of hostages seized at 200, and said that eight had been executed. A later government announcement said 150 hostages were being held and that 14 had been killed.

PICKETING AT ERIE

Eisenhower Confronted By Group of Irate War Mothers

Washington, Jan. 22—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told a group of irate war mothers who confronted him today on Capitol Hill that if all fathers were discharged from the army "there will be no army."

A score of women, representing units of the Servicemen's Wives and Children's Association, met the chief of staff outside the office of Chairman May (D-KY) as he arrived to explain the demobilization policy to the house military committee.

They told him bluntly they wanted to talk to him and followed him into May's small office in the house office building.

Backed into a corner against a window, the five-star general tried for a few minutes to answer assorted questions fired at him simultaneously by almost all of the women.

May finally insisted that one of them do the talking and Mrs. Dorothy Galomb, of Wilkesburg, Pa., secretary of the group, was designated spokesman.

She said flatly that mothers whose husbands are in service are dissatisfied with demobilization procedure and claimed that one out of every three marriages is ending in divorce, with service families involved in most of them.

Declaring that mothers, while trusting their husbands, look with alarm at pictures of fraternization of servicemen overseas, she asked Eisenhower:

"How do you think we mothers feel? Marriage won't stand this isolation."

Eisenhower, when he got a chance to get in a few words, told the women there are about 700,000 fathers in the army and everything is being done to get them out in an orderly manner as rapidly as possible.

"If I drop them out today" regardless of their eligibility for release, he said "there will be no army."

Eisenhower said replacements are being obtained and trained as rapidly as possible. He promised the delegation he would personally handle any formal program they submitted.

Meanwhile congress showed little inclination today to speed action on President Truman's three-point military program.

Members looked with particular skepticism at Mr. Truman's request in his state of the union message for an extension of the draft (Turn to Page Nine)

Injunction Against Picketing Held Up

Pittsburgh, Jan. 22—(AP)—The Westinghouse Electric Corp. and the striking CIO-United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers failed after an all day conference yesterday, to reach agreement on the matter of limiting pickets at the company's Pittsburgh plants.

An injunction suit brought by the company against the union, intended to limit the picketing, was called yesterday morning but continued until today to permit the union-company effort at an out-of-court settlement.

Westinghouse has asked the court to restrain interference with the operation of its business or with the company's agents and employees entering or leaving company property.

Local 610 of the union announced that about 500 war veterans would go to Harrisburg Thursday to ask Governor Martin for a special session of legislature to approve unemployment pay for veterans employed in strikebound plants.

STEEL FACT-FINDING BOARD IS INSTRUCTED TO CONTINUE ITS STUDY OF AVAILABLE DATA

By the Associated Press

The White House acknowledged today that government seizure of the strike-bound meat industry was under consideration, but emphasized no similar proposal was being studied yet for the steel walkout.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told a news conference there might be some developments in the meat strike today. "It's impossible to say at this time what will be done," he added. "The matter of seizure has been under consideration."

After emphasizing that his remarks did "not refer to steel," Ross made public a letter in which President Truman instructed the steel fact-finding board to continue its "study of governmental data" and "remain available for further consultation."

The house labor committee, meanwhile, approved a modified version of President Truman's proposal for fact-finding boards, but stripped the agencies of the authority the president had requested to subpoena witnesses, books and records.

The approved legislation also eliminated a section banning strikes for 30 days while the boards study the disputes.

The committee rejected, 13 to 5, the exact version of the fact-finding bill requested by Mr. Truman and approved the modified version 10 to 8.

In the third largest dispute, the week-old strike of 200,000 CIO Electrical Appliances Workers, Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach appointed two government mediators. They are William H. Davis, former chairman of the War Labor Board, and Arthur S. Meyer.

Government Mediators Are Named in Electrical Dispute

Washington, Jan. 21—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach today appointed two government mediators in the strike of 200,000 CIO electrical workers.

The two named were William H. Davis, former chairman of the War Labor Board, and Arthur S. Meyer, chairman of the New York State Mediation Board.

They went into session this morning with officials of the strike-bound Westinghouse and General Electric companies and the CIO United Electrical Workers.

Davis left the conference a short time after it got underway in order to attend a congressional hearing. He told reporters the disputants had accepted the mediators and that he expected to return to the sessions this afternoon.

Present at the meeting, called by Schwellenbach in an attempt to settle the week-old tie-up in the electrical industry, were Charles E. Wilson, General Electric president, and Maurice Thorez.

Electrical Workers and War Vets Planning Demonstration

Pittsburgh, Jan. 22—(AP)—The United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America announced today a demonstration of 500 war veterans, all members of the union, will be held in Harrisburg on Thursday to demand special benefits for veterans in strike-bound plants.

Turner told the Horticultural Association the food producers council was organized by farm groups in eight states to fight what he termed "practices by some labor leaders in forcing truck drivers to join unions."

He said the council is attempting to obtain federal legislation to outlaw the practices "as they per-with speeches by Governor Martin to farm trucks."

More Organizations Offer Full Support to Clothing Drive

Six more organizations have offered their full cooperation in the National Victory Clothing Drive, which opened in Warren County yesterday. The Exchange Club last night voted unanimously to give active backing to the drive, assuming the responsibilities handed by Kiwanians last year. The Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the Y. W. C. A., and Y. M. C. A. have all offered their services, and will begin their work. The Community Council P. T. A. yesterday afternoon also guaranteed its support.

Warren borough schools last week pledged full support, with a collection on the 31st. Yesterday County Superintendent Blair sent out a bulletin to schools in the county area, fixing the collection dates from the 28th through the 31st, with a highway truck pickup on February 1st. All garments collected in the Victory Clothing Drive, headed nationally by Henry J. Kaiser, and backed by the United States government, will be sent through the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration to the many countries, plunged into chaos by the war.

The first group to notify the general chairman that its collection was ready yesterday was the Warren firemen. Although collections will be made through the schools next week, donations may be left starting tomorrow at the collection center, 440 Pennsylvania Avenue, West. Donations should be wrapped if possible. The center is located in the former Bayer building, east of the Trinity Memorial church.

Any special items of publicity interest should be sent to Olive Archibald Huff, publicity chairman for the drive in Warren county.

New Thomson Hotel Transfer Is Progressing

Sale of the New Thomson Hotel at Kane, one of the best known hostilities in this region for many years, hinges on transfer of the liquor license, it has been made known there.

Confirmation of negotiations for the sale of the hotel by John Fleming to John B. and Helen Walters, and W. Arthur and Luella Davis, of Bradford, was made by the hotel management following posting of notice of application for the liquor license transfer.

Mr. Fleming established the New Thomson Hotel in 1908, constructing the five-story brick building which had 125 sleeping rooms.

For many years the hotel not only has been popular with travelers but a center for the annual influx of health visitors and for the hunting and winter sports seasons.

Mr. Fleming was in active operation of the hotel almost continuously excepting for a few years more than a decade ago when Leonard A. Larson, formerly of the Carver hotel in this city, was the operator.

Mr. Walters was contacted at Bradford concerning the negotiations and future plans for the building. He stated that modernization is planned but did not depend on an announcement pending completion of negotiations for the purchase of the property.

First fleet strength of the Revenue Cutter Service, later the Coast Guard, was 10 cutters built to combat smuggling and to collect much needed revenue.

Season's First Fox Hunt Is Well Attended

Seventy-five men turned out Sunday for one of the Warren Field and Stream Club's popular fox hunts. This is the first hunt of the year and was made up of three separate drives held in the neighborhood of Dunhams Corners and the old creamery plant.

Many fox tracks were seen but brother fox, for the most part, took to his hole when the hunters showed up.

The "Fox Hole Inn" under the management of Frank Reese and his fine committee was going full blast and was the central point for all drives. This well-stocked "Inn" was more popular than ever.

On the first drive Howard Lautzenberger, vice president of the club, may have become eligible to lose part of his shirt-tail but due to lack of proof, his shirt-tail will remain intact. On the last drive of the day Chuck Lane and Harold Dietrich definitely joined the ranks of the "Shirt-Tail Club", both missing on a fox and permitting him to get through the ring of men to other parts of the county.

It is hoped that the club may soon put on another of these popular fox hunts. The thrill of hearing the music of the drivers calls coming nearer and nearer and the good fellowship developed make these hunts very enjoyable.

Fast Contests Are Played In "YM" League

Sylvania and Penn Bottle has kettball squads polished off their opponents in an impressive style last night in the City League games at the 'Y' as they put on the finishing touches for their play-off game on Wednesday night.

Sylvania took Youngsville in the opener 37 to 18 and Penn Bottle disposed of Blomquist 43 to 15 in the nightcap.

In the first game Sylvania rolled up a 22 to 9 lead by half time. Youngsville took advantage of Sylvania's third period let down to rack up 7 points to Sylvania's 8, but in the final period Sylvania tightened up and held Youngsville to a lone goal as they scored 7 points. Murphy of Youngsville aided the cause along by dumping in a goal for Sylvania, which little contribution was vociferously received.

In the second game Penn Bottle

America's Card Authority

With thirteen or fourteen pairs playing the same hand, especially in a national tournament, one might expect the bidding and results at the various tables to be somewhat uniform. However, outside of a slam hand, I do not think I have ever seen a bid on which every pair got an average.

Take for example today's hand from the recent Nationals. Most of the South players opened the bidding with one heart, North in most cases responded with one spade, but from there on things began to happen. At one table, when East passed the spade bid, South bid two clubs, North bid two diamonds and the hand was played there. At another table, East and West played the hand at clubs.

The most interesting result, I thought, was one where West played at three no trump, and made it, although it can be defeated. The five of hearts was opened by North, East played low and South won with the king. A heart was trumped, dummy won with the ace, the ice of spades was cashed, and when the queen dropped, declarer led the queen of clubs from dummy. South won with the king and North's nine-spot fell.

Another heart was returned. West won with the jack and took the spade finesse. The jack of clubs was led, South won, but now he was too late in shifting to a diamond. Declarer was able to make four spade tricks, three hearts, a diamond and a club.

Warren Public Library Now Offering Extension Courses

The Warren public library is following the early purpose of its founders by its interest in adult education. Back in 1884 a book, The Library, Its Home and Benefactors, urged the development of the ideal of the library as a People's College. The importance of continuing education was stressed.

During the past two years the public library has cooperated with Edinboro State Teachers' College in its extension work. Courses given in the library have been The Modern Novel, Modern Drama, Children's Literature and a short course in dictation by Miss Jane Ludgate, head of the English Department at Edinboro.

The courses are being offered for the next semester, which opens next Monday, January 28th at the library. They are Comparative Government, from 4:30 until 6:30 each Monday, and Interpretative Reading from 7 until 9 o'clock in the evening.

The course in Comparative Government is designed to acquaint the student with the organization, historic background, and the basic philosophy of the more important governments of the world today. Comparisons are made of educational systems, court organizations, methods of taxation, and the seat of Sovereignty in the Democracies, Communist Russia and in the Fascist Nation of Germany and Italy. Persistent problems are discussed and consideration is given to current issues in the countries under discussion. Dean Offner will be the capable instructor.

Considerable interest has been shown in the Interpretative Reading course offered for the evening under the guidance of Miss Jane Ludgate. The course is a study of the logical and emotional meanings used in the presentation of poetry and prose. The class will study means of securing naturalness, emphasis, variety, contrasts, platform deportment, and action, in addition to the techniques of presentation of the monolog and one act play cutting. Each student will present a short program.

Everyone who has studied under Miss Ludgate has been impressed by the scope of her knowledge, her vital personality and her gift for presentation. She has also had wide experience as a platform reader.

Anyone interested in securing information about these courses may secure further information from the Advisory Department of the Warren library. Mrs. Huff or Miss Spinney may be called at 1085 for such information.

Judge Speaks For Baptist Annual Event

Allison D. Wade, president judge of Warren county, was the guest speaker last night at the annual father and son banquet of the First Baptist church.

Judge Wade, who spoke on "The Relationship of the Home, Church, and State," brought out many interesting points to the 200 Fathers and sons in connection with his topic. He stressed the extreme importance of building strong minds and bodies in both the home and church so that the future citizens of our country could work in harmony with the state.

H. D. Harris, principal of Beatty school, was toastmaster, and the program included the invocation by Rev. M. G. Perry, pastor of the First Baptist church, and group singing. The Toast to the Fathers was given by Judson Hetrick, and the Toast to the Sons by George Spinney. A quartet, composed of Mrs. Foster Maze, Viola Lindmark, Ralph Owens, and Earl Wright sang several numbers during the program.

Following the address by Judge Wade, movies were shown through the courtesy of the U. S. Forest Service.

The affairs were sponsored by the Quincentennial Class, with Earl Burbee as general chairman of the following committee: Rev. Perry, G. E. Spinney, F. H. Hetrick, R. L. Owens and R. W. Carlson. Serving as the kitchen committee were Neva Burbee, Irene Wright, Martha Kifer, June Wedlock, Mildred Farrell, Arietta Owens and Mary Spinney, with Ruby Carlson, Connie Hetrick, Audrey Lemmon, Olive Barlow and Luella Klenck handling the dining room arrangements.

DO'S AND DON'TS FOR USED FAT

Do save fat and meat scraps while preparing food.
Do save grease from frying, even from onions or fish.
Do save skimmings from stews or meat-base soups.
Do save drippings from roasting pans and broilers.
Do save meat and bones left on plates at mealtime.
Do keep your fat salvage can near the stove where it is convenient.

Don't regard any grease too rancid, burned or smelly to save.
Don't consider fat useless because it is no longer useful in cooking.

Don't neglect small savings—those last drops in the skillet.

Don't let a drop of grease go down the sink or into the garbage can.

Don't let used fat accumulate. Turn in to the meat dealer when you get a container full.

Don't turn in used fat on week-ends when the meat dealer is busy. Go the first of the week.

CLOTHING FOR WORLD NEEDS

Youngville churches are taking part in the collection of clothing for needy persons in war torn lands. The Lutheran church already have made their collection. The other churches will be ready for the county collection the last of this month. At the Methodist church Sunday it was requested that clothing be brought to the church during this week. Tables in the basement are ready to receive the clothing, which should be wrapped when brought. There are several places where collections of clothing are received.

Statement Of Rent Director On Ceilings

Frank S. Anderson, Area Rent Director of Erie and Warren counties, today declared that certain statements made on Friday by D. W. Harper, president of the Erie Real Estate Board, were misleading and inaccurate.

The inference from Mr. Harper's statements, Anderson pointed out, was that new builders are compelled to accept the rent ceilings in effect in 1942. "This is not true as an allowance is made for increased cost of construction over the cost in 1939."

"Builders are urged to submit building plans and specifications to our rent office. Given sufficient data for a decision, we will notify the builders within a few days the maximum rent that they may charge if they build substantially according to the plans submitted. The ceiling rent will be fixed by our office on the basis of the rent for comparable accommodations on March 1, 1942 plus an allowance for the increased cost of construction today over the cost in 1939."

"While the rent office has given many prior opinions on the conversion of large homes into apartments since the summer of 1943 only one builder has thus far submitted plans for the building of new homes. Within the past week we have given prior opinions to the satisfaction of the builder concerned on two prospective new

Does the Atom Bomb Explain Bible Miracles?

According to Edwin J. Dingle, world-renowned geographer, honored by leading geographical societies, the power of the atom as disclosed in the atom bomb, is small compared with little known and seldom used powers of the human brain. He maintains that man, instead of being limited by an average man power mind, has within him the mind power of a thousand men or more, as well as the energy power of the universe, which can be used in daily affairs.

According to him, this sleeping giant of mind-power, when awakened, can make man capable of surprising accomplishments. It is as amazing as the atom bomb is compared with former sources of energy. Many thousands of people throughout the world have already tried this method. Many report improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success. Others report improvement in health, increased strength, courage, poise and energy, or a more magnetic personality.

As part of a great movement to make his methods available to more people, a 9000-word treatise is offered absolutely free for the time being. It reveals many startling results. Readers of this announcement can get their free copy by sending a post card or letter to the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 S. Hobart Blvd., Dept. W-457, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, because this offer may be withdrawn at any time.

What Became of That Flood of Merchandise?

BROADWAY

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK—Broadway financiers, the guys who lay out the dough for new night clubs and various maza-lighted ventures, expect a couple of years of inflated business, but so far as new, big cafes are concerned, they're pretty well agreed the party's over. . . . Some of the larger ones are having a tough time of it right now, with one or two expected to close any day. . . . The trend is to the little continental-style boites, such as the Blue Angel, La Ruban Bleu, Hotel Elysee's Monkey Bar and the Madison Hotel's new cafe which features intimate entertainment.

Herbert Jacoby and Max Gordon, who run the Blue Angel, hit on the ultimate formula about first of the tiny fashionable saloons now dotting the East Side. . . . They had great success with such excellent entertainers as Maxine Sullivan, Evelyn Knight, a little guy whose humor is positively insane named Irwin Corey, and others whose styles lend themselves neatly to the small-room technique. . . .

THE entertainment in such spots is continuous . . . no dance floor, just a lot of tables crowded together . . . in fact, that's the only unpleasant part of this new style of operation, for when a place gets filled, elbow-to-elbow, you occasionally find yourself playing footie with some perfect stranger . . . of course, sometimes that's not bad, either. . . . The various acts go on at spaced intervals, not as a complete floor show presentation . . . and they are presented on little stages at one end of the room . . . a sort of vest-pocket music hall idea.

I like the name of a new comedy which will star William Frawley and Mary Brian: "Mary Had a Little". . . . and the Broadway wise guys think the name of another expected play is a natural: "A Bed Named Murphy". . . . Patricia Marshall, who stole most of the rave notices when the musical "The Day Before Spring" opened here, has been signed to an M-G-M contract . . . she was discovered first in a Minneapolis high school by band leader Dick Humber.

GENE KELLEY, whose superb dancing on the screen has done much to bring him into the limelight, actually studied very little ballet. . . . Sitting in Toot Shor's the other night, we got to discussing this phenomenon and Gene said he learned much of the coordination necessary for his ballet techniques by watching . . . of all people—Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., the silent-screen star. . . . Gene said Doug's athletic leaps and jumps were the purest sort of ballet. . . . "He couldn't make an ungraceful move," Gene insists.

Now I know what happens to old, abandoned Quiz Kids. . . . Joan Bishop, now eighteen years old and well past the age for adolescent genius, has turned to the stage. . . . she's in the chorus of "The Desert Song," being revived at City Center, her first professional engagement in which she uses her singing voice instead of her erudite noodle.

Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—They are remodeling the White House again. This time to the tune of $1,650,000, which is more than the "President's Palace" cost in the first place.

The new addition is principally 15,000 square feet of office space. So now may be the time to pause and examine what has happened to the White House.

When George Washington laid the cornerstone in 1792 the idea was to give the Chief Executive a fitting and dignified residence.

IT WAS eight years before John Adams first dignified the mansion as a Presidential residence. And Thomas Jefferson thought so little of it when he came to Washington that he lived in a hostelry a few muddy squares from his offices in the capitol.

Dolly Madison really first took over the White House and made it something more than the crude domicile she complained of in the diaries of her early tenure. She still was reigning queen there when the British burned it in 1814.

It wasn't until Andrew Jackson's day, 15 years later, that democracy came with a wide-open door to every son of the wilderness who wanted to track in mud from the swampy south grounds.

THE late President Franklin D. Roosevelt was a master of phraseology and so it's natural that the Post Office Department should reproduce his words on the five-cent stamp of the memorial series in his honor—the second United States stamp that memorializes his words. The first was the United Nations Conference stamp of last spring.

The forthcoming stamp—scheduled for first day sale at Washington on Mr. Roosevelt's birthday, Jan. 30—features the words "Freedom of Speech, and Religion, From Want and Fear" which were taken from the late President's address to Congress January 6, 1942.

As illustrated here, the words are centered on a world globe with Mr. Roosevelt's portrait, at the left, the same that has been used on previous memorial issues. The stamp will be the usual blue of five-cent issues.

First-Day cover collectors may send a maximum of 10 addressed envelopes with cash, money order or postal note to cover the cost of stamps to be added to the Postmaster, Washington 13, D. C.

THREE familiar portraits in Czechoslovakia's philatelic gallery are pictured once more in that liberated nation's postage stamps. New issues of Czechoslovakia picture World War I Czech hero General Milan Stefanik, former President T. G. Masaryk and Dr. Edward Benes, now president of the republic.

General Stefanik, who appears on numerous pre-World War II issues, is portrayed on 30 and 80 halers, and 2.40 and 10-koruna values while former President

From that time on a good deal of business other than purely social has been transacted there, but just when the White House started to become an office building as well as a residence will have to be left to more diligent researchers.

It's my theory that the "journalists" were really responsible. When they started reporting "the White House says," Chief Executive must have begun to realize that the White House needed a few permanent hired hands to be sure that what it said was politically accurate.

THE White House secretariat, advisors, etc., have of course been increasing all through the years, but the present spurt apparently started with Theodore Roosevelt. There was remodeling before the late Franklin D. Roosevelt took over, but nothing like the wholesale moving in of executive officials and their staffs that has taken place since.

According to White House architect L. S. Winslow, most of the alterations will provide office space on the executive, or west wing.

There also will be an auditorium seating a few less than 400, mainly for press and radio conferences, but also before-and-after movies, television, etc.

For the convenience of the employees there also will be a cafeteria. For the edification of the public there will be a museum.

Stamp News

Masaryk is honored on 50-h, 1.20 and 5-k denominations. President Benes is pictured on 60-h and 1.60 and 3-k values. Two additional 1945 Czechoslovakian issues commemorate the 45th anniversary of the Jan Sladsky Nozina. Values and colors are 2.40-k red and 4-k blue.

Another new Czechoslovakian set reported by J. and E. Stolorow of New York curiously features the Linden Leaves design that was used by the German protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia in 1939-41.

AT least 2,650 varieties of stamps were issued in 1945, according to a compilation by Kent B. Stiles, New York Times stamp editor, who adds that this figure is certain to be increased with still unlisted stamps from the Pacific area. Stiles' compilation shows about 600 overprints, 292 airmails, 621 commemoratives and 213 occupation issues. The 2,650 stamps were issued by 127 governments, with 13 countries—Germany, Czechoslovakia, Italy, China, Hungary, France, Russia, Austria, Belgium, Poland, Yugoslavia, Romania and San Marino—accounting for 1,086 or 41 per cent of the varieties.

MATERIAL from the late President Roosevelt's stamp collection will be exhibited in a number of cities before its sale at auction. Beginning Jan. 28, in Boston, the itinerary calls for parts of the collection to be displayed in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Cleveland, St. Louis, and Denver, according to H. R. Harmer, Inc.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1926
A delegation of Good Roads boosters from Warren visited Governor Pinchot in his Harrisburg offices. The local men advocate state construction of the unfinished portion of Route 89.

Efforts are being made at Franklin to prevent a serious ice jam in the Allegheny river. Dynamite is being used there to break up the huge jams.

The Geracimos Candy Company has solved its whipping cream problem. The local firm purchased an electric whipping cream mixture, thus saving much time spent by hand.

Postmaster Parshall has urged Warren county motorists to send for their state license tags now. In order to avoid a serious rush when the deadline nears, applications may be sent immediately.

In 1936
The HyVis Oil Company has scored another "first" step in advertising. The latest development is a printed page ad, and when held up to the light new words appear, which are printed on the back side of the page.

The Indianapolis U. S. Tire crack cage combine will come here for a meeting with the HyVis Oils quintet. The tire aggregation is rated one of the finest in the Midwest.

Mike Bleech, of the Warren Chair Works team, is currently leading the brigade in the Commercial Bowling League. First half averages reveal Bleech with a 185 average in 36 games.

According to district politicians, many of the office seekers in the twentieth congressional district, of which Warren is included are beginning to secure support for the next election.

FEARS AND SUPERSTITIONS

● Ferocious in his paint, feathers, and horns, weird in his ceremonial dance, the medicine man once played on the superstitions and fears of his victims to sell his snake oil, resurrection brew, and all-healing ointment. He more often killed than cured. Such pagan quackery has yielded to science. Research has come to the aid of medical practice and today diagnosis and treatment of disease are on a sound scientific basis. To benefit by the progress which the years have wrought, see your physician when ill. Place yourself in his care. We supplement his service by filling your prescriptions exactly as ordered.

Decision In Corry Case Interests Here

Corry Journal: The results of last week's decision by the supreme court refusing the appeal of Al Marty (Magiardi) from his conviction in Erie county court on the charge of forcible robbery preferred originally by Ted Dey, of the Boston House, were awaited here with much comment on the probable developments.

The case resulted from a quarrel following a crap game at a former West Main street gambling room and the charge was filed by Dey who alleged that Marty had taken $1165 from him by force in a scuffle. In the hearing and at the trial in Erie County, Marty had maintained that Dey owed him a much larger amount.

After the conviction the State Liquor Control Board is understood to have informed Marty that he could continue operating his licensed cafe on South Center street only on a tentative basis until the conviction was confirmed or upset by the higher court. The revocation of the license is therefore expected. Whether Marty can dispose of his establishment and whether a new owner can secure a license by a transfer or a new application remains to develop.

State authorities recently condemned the use of the basement under the first floor cafe and that section has been closed for some time. It has been understood that Marty was preparing a large space on the second floor of the Cameron building, which he owns, as a new location for the cafe and had intended vacating the first floor room.

George M. Pullman, who invented the American-type sleeping car, said he got the idea from the double-deck bunks used in the Colorado mining camps during the gold rush.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 8 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

WHY SHOULD I?

WHY should I give to the Warren General Hospital Modernization and Expansion Fund of $400,000 now being raised in Warren County?

This question asked Earnestly and Sincerely or defensively and thoughtlessly deserves a Reasonable Answer

When it's a matter of LIFE or DEATH, we, the citizens of Warren County, should not and cannot refuse to face the FACTS. And the plain, bald fact of the matter is that Warren General Hospital is overcrowded—dangerously overcrowded!

A safe policy for the Board of Directors to have followed would have been to DENY FURTHER ADMISSIONS when the Hospital was full. Instead, by crowding, by using sunparlors and overtaxing every facility to the utmost, those in need of hospitalization have been cared for.

But this can't go on! It is an emergency program that dare not be continued a day longer than necessary to correct it. The proposed program of modernization and expansion WILL correct it; WILL give Warren County the adequate hospital facilities it needs to combat sickness and disease—to save LIVES—to give you and yours A NEW LEASE ON LIFE!

What's the alternative to expansion? There's only one—a contraction of hospital facilities. Surely no person would sanction such action. The citizens of Warren County WILL GO FORWARD in meeting this civic responsibility, and here's why:

Reason No. 1

Self Interest demands it. Some day suddenly and without warning the Hospital may become the most vital and immediate need in your life. If and when the need arises, you want made available to you the best there is. The difference between having the best and not having it can mean the difference between life and death.

Reason No. 2

Family Interest Demands It. Your wife, husband, child, mother, father may need hospital care not at present available in crowded Warren General Hospital. In their hour of need the best is none too good.

Reason No. 3

What if there were no Warren General Hospital? Wouldn't you feel a lot less secure? But if a few citizens of Warren and Warren County hadn't assumed their responsibility 20 years ago, there would be no hospital today. We owe them a debt. It is up to us to carry on.

Reason No. 4

Civic responsibility and pride in one's own community is as typically American as "ham and eggs." You naturally want the place where you live and bring up your family to be the best—to have modern schools, good fire protection, fine cultural interests, good churches and good hospital facilities. This present program of modernization is absolutely necessary if Warren County is to keep pace. Remember, it's YOUR home—and YOUR Hospital. Let's see they're the BEST!

Give to the Warren General Hospital Modernization Fund
To Give YOU and YOURS A NEW LEASE ON LIFE!

Leary and Johnson Church Rites Are Announced Today

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Johnson, 429 Jackson avenue, announce the marriage of their daughter, Lorraine Alice, to Ralph S. Leary, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Leary, 200 Falconer street, Jamestown, N. Y. The double ring ceremony was performed at 7:00 p. m., January 16 in the First Church of the Nazarene by the Rev. Gordon V. Woods.

Palms and white candles were used in simple decoration of the church. The organist, Gladys Judd, played the traditional selections and was accompanied by Rev. Fred Lindblad, of Jamestown, who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "O Perfect Love."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Mrs. Willis Fehlman, Erie, as matron of honor, and Helen Thompson, who was bridesmaid for her cousin, Richard E. Clark was best man, with Iris Jean Eldridge, Warren, and Dorothy Ahlgren, Jamestown, as ushers.

The bridal frock was fashioned with white satin bodice in basque style, long sleeves, and long, full skirt of tulle. A small cap with orange blossom trim held her fingertip veil, and white rosebuds formed her bouquet. Mrs. Fehlman and Miss Thompson wore pink and blue taffeta, respectively, and each carried pink carnations. The bride's mother wore yellow roses with blue and matching accessories and Mrs. Leary wore red roses with an all-black outfit.

A reception for 50 guests followed at the YWCA, where the bride's table was centered with yellow mums, flanked by white candles. Out of town guests included Mrs. Leary, Lloyd and Donald Leary, Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Ahlgren, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Leary, Jr., Bruce Fry, Mrs. Sigrid Anderson, Violet Anderson, Dorothy Ahlgren, Jamestown; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Fehlman, Alice Fehlman, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Deshner, Nola Deshner, Youngsville.

Following a wedding trip to Ashtabula, O., the newweds are now at home at 429 Jackson avenue. For traveling, the bride chose a fuchsia suit-dress with black accessories. She is a graduate of the local high school and is employed by her father at the Johnson Grocery, 100 St. Clair street. Prior to her wedding, she was honored with a miscellaneous shower given by the Nazarene Young People's Society.

Mr. Leary attended Warren High and entered the army December 1, 1941. He was discharged October 9, 1945, after serving 34 months in the Pacific area, and is now employed locally by the Sylvania Electric Products, Inc.

Business Suit?

Once a successful shop owner, the Greek war victim pictured here has only broken baskets now to hold his small stock of wares, and he starts out to build a new life in the only clothing he possesses. The cast-off garments practically any business man of Warren could easily spare to the Victory Clothing Collection would give him a new lease on life.

Paul Manning, commentator and magazine writer (and the only correspondent to witness and broadcast unconditional surrender at both Rheims and Tokyo), writes that there are 22 million homeless families wandering over the European continent this winter, all hungry and cold, and in the Philippines and China he saw the same appalling need for food and clothing.

"When I left Paris," he says, "I gave to an elderly Frenchman the field boots I had worn from Normandy to Germany. His son, who had returned in rags from a prison camp in Germany, would need them this winter as he set out clearing farm land for the spring crop. The chambermaid cried her gratitude for the khaki shirts I gave her, saying she was not having more clothing or tinied food which I might have passed on as additional gifts. For this is the manner in which you give tips in Europe these days—with clothing and food—because that is the only currency which guarantees life to the people of its devastated countries. In Holland and Belgium, it is heartbreaking to see the look on the faces of children—the need for warm clothing and food to ease the misery of those who have suffered much too much."

Dinner For Ex-Guardsmen At State Armory Pleasing Affair

A dinner for members of Company I, P. N. G., at the time the company left Warren for Federal service, and for former and present members of Company I, Penna. Guard, was held in the armory at 6:30 p. m., Monday.

About twenty members of the old company were present and had a wonderful time greeting their old friends and buddies, some of whom had not seen each other for several years.

Among those who sat at the speaker's table were Major A. R. Bullock, Regular Army instructor, Captain Robert Dunn, commander, 3rd Battalion, P. G., Lt. Paul Fago, Battalion Surgeon, Captain Joseph Scheerer of the old company and Captain James Scallise, 1st Lt. Charles N. Johnson and 2nd Lt. Robert P. Ferry of the present company.

At the same table were E. C. Lowrey, J. S. Pees and Harry F. Bell.

Captain Scallise, who acted as toastmaster, called upon these men for remarks and each spoke very highly of the advantages of guard training.

Mr. Bell spoke of the time he belonged to the Guards back in 1890 and named some of our older citizens who belonged at that time. Captain Scallise then told the former members of Company I how glad he was to see them back and also recalled some of the former times with them. He also mentioned the need of the present Guard unit for men of their experience to help strengthen the organization and expressed the hope that more of them would decide to come back into the company. The captain asked Mr. Pees for his kindness in showing the training plans for the company at various times.

The rest of the evening was spent in the showing of training films and in the regular training of the company.

Former members of Co. 1, 112th Infantry, who saw service in the World War II in attendance were: Willard C. Confer, Charles E. Barrett, Robert W. Johnson, Bernard H. Roth, Archie R. Densmore, Frederick J. Swanson, LeRoy C. Fronbury, James P. Goradio, Joseph P. Krogler, Robert C. Edwards, James R. Peterson, George L. Zerby, Fred G. Hultberg, Joseph L. Scheerer and R. H. Fisher. Other former members present were Weston Gray, Randall Arters, bugler with the Company in 1914 and Forest L. Feiro, bugler in 1939.

Warren Co. Potato Grower Is Featured in Official Paper

"The Guide Post," official publication of the Pennsylvania Cooperative Potato Growers Association, Inc., carries the following interesting article under the heading "The Lauger Farms," along with a picture "Harvesting the 1945 Potato Crop on the Lauger Farms" with grandson Donald, "Spud the 3rd" admiring some beautiful Katahdins."

Jointly operated by Oscar, Elsie, George and Donald, Spud the III, includes 165 acres of some of the finest potatoes grown in northwestern Pennsylvania. Russets, Katahdin, Sebago and Green Mountains produced well above 325 bushels per acre. Size, shape, quality and yield all were most satisfactory for the past three years.

Oscar Lauger (senior) began growing potatoes in a small way in Brokenstraw Township near Youngville, Warren county some ten years ago. He has successfully mounted repeated production obstacles, his neighbors agree that Oscar always comes through with plenty of good potatoes. The 1945 season had its obstacles and hazards in the form of labor and fire. The first he handled nicely by securing the services of German War prisoners and local men, women and children.

The latter however was a decided calamity when 15,000 bushels of potatoes were burned in the biggest fire known in the area in years. Machinery, paper bags and potatoes were a complete loss. In spite of all this, economical production and efficient marketing methods will bring the Lauger Farms through the season in the black side of the ledger again.

Fully eighty-five per cent of the Lauger Farms' potato crop is sold cooperatively by way of Pennsylvania Blue Labels. All operations are geared up in such a way as to permit early movement of potatoes to the Cleveland, Youngstown and Pittsburgh market regularly to assist in establishing a definite movement to hold that market. This has been found most necessary and definitely profitable. Good prices are realized early and late in the average price realized being well above the price received by those marketing spasmodically. When in full swing two 800 peck loads move to market daily.

In addition to good table stock the Laugers have gone into the production of Certified Russets and Green Mountain seed potatoes. The hills of Warren county are conducive to good seed production as experienced by many neighboring growers.

Board Members, Committees Named At Annual Meeting of the Y. W. C. A.

Holding their 32nd annual business meeting in the activities building on Monday, members of the local YWCA elected for three-year terms the following board members: Mrs. H. B. Pettit, May Belle Bairstow, Mrs. Grover Lind, Mrs. Robert Trusler, Mrs. W. F. Bennett and Mrs. J. R. McLaughlin.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Carl Lundahl, the nominating committee report being presented by Mrs. Jesse Smith, whose co-workers were Mrs. Irwin Tillard, Mrs. Melvin Thomas, Jennie Ryan and Bertha Fraring. Mrs. Lundahl called attention to the retirement of Mrs. D. W. Crossett, after 12 years of faithful membership on the board, and welcomed the new director, Mrs. McLaughlin.

Stating that the chairman would be named at next week's organizational meeting of the board, she then announced the appointment of the following membership committee for next year: Mrs. Ralph Sires, Mrs. William Brenton, Mrs. H. L. Knappenberger, Margaret Alexander, Mrs. A. H. Templeton, Mrs. J. B. Leidig, Mrs. B. R. Walker, Mrs. E. K. DeLong, Mrs. B. H. White, Mrs. J. H. Goldstein, Mrs. Roy Hertz, Mrs. A. T. Slatry, Edna Glasser, Mrs. Bertram Messerly, Effie Peterson, Mrs. Webster Sechrist, Kathryn O' Meara and Mrs. Nell Swick.

Tribute was paid by the president to two recently-deceased friends of the association, E. D. Wetmore and C. T. Conarro, as well as to a number of members who have died within the year. She acknowledged, also, the gift of a public address system, with record attachment, given the association by "Santa Claus". Annual reports were read by the secretary, Jennie Ryan, and the treasurer, Mrs. U. S. Rogers, and the speaking schedule of Miss Mary Dingman was announced by Mary Church, general secretary. Members were pleased to hear greetings sent by a former secretary, Mrs. J. H. West, now residing in Florida.

Mrs. Lundahl then presented Miss Dingman, guest speaker, who recalled that 1945 saw the British YWCA observing its 50th birthday and the World YWCA its 50th anniversary. She urged that local associations use every device and every possible opportunity to teach world consciousness, the only thing which will assure peace and plenty. She described the national headquarters in New York and world headquarters in Geneva, pointing out some of the great tasks in which the latter has assisted the League of Nations and International Labor Organization.

She complimented the Warren "Y" on its increased gifts to the World Service Fund, stating that only by such gifts can work be carried on in countries where little of value has been left by the enemy and the war. She touched on her own national problems, the disgraceful filibuster in the senate, the clash between labor and industry, and closed with the query: How many people really care enough about peace to actually work and sacrifice for it?

The business session and program followed dinner, for which there were 115 reservations. Mrs. Harold Warren voiced the invocation which opened the program and all joined in singing "Follow the Glean" at its close. Dinner music was provided by a trio of high school girls, Martha Winans, Joyce Ettinger and Joan Retterer. Girl Reserves on the serving committee were Gerry Peterson, Joan Kehrl, Barbara Nichols, Marion Endress, Barbara Carlson, Shirley Peterson, Shirley Johnson, Joyce Dalrymple, Nancy O'Dell and Carol Nelson.

It soon became apparent there was no time to be lost and Mr. Cleveland stepped on the gas—halting only briefly at Mt. Jewett to see if a doctor was immediately available. He then assisted in the delivery and wrapped the infant in a blanket and continued on to the hospital where arrangements had been made. Records indicate the infant was born approximately 12:05 a. m. and both were admitted to the hospital at 12:30 a. m. Mother and infant also are doing well.

DRAGON CAGERS SET FOR TITUSVILLE CONTEST TONIGHT

Blue and Whifers Seek 2nd League Win, 12th Seasonal Victory in Rocket Encounter

Behind the Lines

14TH IN STATE
For years, the top football and basketball teams in the scholastic leagues have been drawn from the western part of the state, but this year things are different. Although the majority of the top-flight football teams were from the west, Mr. Basketball in the west was taken over the control of the twenty positions in Pennsylvania's race for laurels.

And to top that off, Warren's Blue Dragons are rated as No. 14 in Pennsylvania. The Blue and Whifers are also rated as the seventh best quintet in western Pennsylvania.

The following ratings, compiled by the Scholastic Sports Institute, New York City, are made from scores and records of 698 high school basketball teams in Pennsylvania. The SSI, sponsored by Coca-Cola Company, is headed by Dick Dunlap and releases weekly ratings of the top teams in the state, both in basketball and football.

This is the list of the top twenty teams and their ratings:

1. Allentown . . . 76.0
2. Ambridge . . . 71.0
3. Hazleton . . . 69.2
4. Homestead . . . 66.6
5. Alliquippa . . . 66.2
6. Sharon . . . 66.0
7. Tech, Erie . . . 65.9
8. Radnor . . . 64.1
9. Donora . . . 64.1
10. Sayreville . . . 63.9
11. Williamsport . . . 63.3
12. Norristown . . . 62.4
13. Brown Prep . . . 62.3
14. Warren . . . 62.2
15. Ellwood City . . . 61.4
16. Turtle Creek . . . 61.1
17. Bradford . . . 61.0
18. Easton . . . 61.0
19. So. Catholic, Phila. . . 60.5
20. Bethlehem . . . 60.4

The numbers listed after each team are index numbers, not percentages. They show the approximate relative strength of any two teams, regardless of location, or regardless of the number of wins or losses. They answer the question, "How well has this team done relative to the strength of its opponents?"

JOHNSBURG SUSPENDED

Johnsburg High School has received a very light sentence for recent slugging act involving Johnsonburg fan and Referee Hoffman, of St. Marys. The incident occurred several weeks ago when the score was tied at the end of the game, 35-35. Hoffman, unable to hear the final whistle, called a foul on a Johnsonburg player after the regular playtime had ended. Irrked by decision, a returned serviceman stepped onto the floor and began slugging Hoffman, knocking him loose and cutting the officials' face.

Joe Massa's basketball Dragons move into the very thick of the cage wars tonight at Titusville, where they tangle with Art Brady's Rockets in an 8:30 Section Two contest.

The Blue and Whifers, with a win and a loss in league competition, will be battling the league leaders when they appear tonight. Should the locals be successful tonight, and should Meadville knock Franklin off at Meadville tonight, the Section would be thrown a four-way tie.

The Rockets go into battle against the Massamen with a recent, 46-44 victory over Erie Academy tightly tucked into their belts, and no ground will be relinquished by the Crawford county quintet.

Returning to the Dragon lineup tonight will be forward Dick Harris, sidelined for over a week because of an ankle injury. Harris may not start, but he will probably see quite a bit of action.

The remainder of the Dragon lineup will continue the same. Jack Eaton, who is holding down second place in the league scoring race with 23 points, will open at the center post; Ray Reed and Neil Simmons at the guard slots, and Babcock and other "Jim" Scalise or Harris at the forwards. Tony Vesco and Gail Nelson will also see service this evening.

Tonight's game will be the next-to-the last appearance of Neil Simmons, the 6'3" guard who will graduate at mid-term. Simmons' final appearance will be against Erie Tech here Friday.

The Titusville boys gained their league lead by tossing Meadville a 27-26 defeat a week-and-a-half ago. Panama, a regular who was out of action during the earlier part of the season with a fractured elbow, has returned to the Rocket starting lineup, thus boosting Brady's chances of handing the Dragomen another upset. Pairing at forward with Panas will be Cox, star scorer for the Rockets. At center will be Barber, and the guard posts will be handled by Dibble and Snyder.

In a preliminary at 7:30, the Second teams of the schools will tangle, the Warren outfit straining to keep its victory record intact.

Resume Middle Atlantic Loop At Erie Meet

Erie, Jan. 22.—(P)—First steps toward resumption of play this year in the Middle Atlantic Baseball League, which suspended operation at the close of the 1942 season because of the war, were taken yesterday at a reorganization meeting here.

Franchise fees were posted by five of the six cities holding berths in the Class C loop. They were Erie, Johnstown, Oil City and Butler in Pennsylvania and Niagara Falls, N. Y.

League president Elmer Daily, of Ebensburg, Pa., said the circuit's sixth club would be located in Youngstown or one of the three other cities now under consideration. However, owners of the Youngstown franchise were not represented at the meeting here.

Attending the session were J. V. Munch, Erie; John Cunningham, Oil City; J. H. Dunlevy, Jr., Butler; George Cooper, Johnstown; and William Burns, Jr., Niagara Falls.

Another meeting is scheduled in Oil City within the next two or three weeks.

Three Million Dollar Boxing Rise In 1945

By TED MEIER
New York, Jan. 22.—(P)—As a portent of the generally anticipated boom in the sport this year, boxing grossed approximately $13,000,000 in the United States during 1945, an increase of nearly $3,000,000 over the estimated 1944 total.

An Associated Press tabulation of figures from 32 state athletic commissions showed today that $12,878,660 was paid by at least 4,622,802 fans to witness bouts throughout the country. The attendance mark is incomplete because several of the commissions listed only gross receipts.

Joe Louis, Billy Conn and other notable prewar scrappers were still in the service, but New York State retained its No. 1 ranking as newcomers Rocky Graziano, Willie Joyce and Johnny Greco developed large followings.

New York reported aggregate receipts of $3,969,213, including a record of $2,263,259 gate at Madison Square Garden. As a comparison the Garden drew $1,386,467 in 1944, $1,136,225 in 1943 and $1,111,202 in 1942.

California ranked second with proceeds of $1,984,363, Pennsylvania was third with $1,200,000. Perhaps the biggest jump over 1944, other than New York, was in the New England area, where Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Maine and New Hampshire reported an aggregate of $1,494,158. The bulk of this was in Massachusetts, which ranked fourth with $987,535, nearly 50 per cent more than the $664,667 reported for 1944.

Illinois, at $612,630, and New Jersey at $550,690 completed the first six states.

Mel Ott Confident He Can Play 75, 100 Games

New York, Jan. 22.—(P)—Mel Ott, who begins his 21st season as a New York Giant and his fifth as club manager, is confident he can hold down his customary rightfield post for "from 75 to 100 games" this year.

The recent acquisition of catcher Walker Cooper from the St. Louis Cardinals for $175,000, Ott said, "makes us a definite first division club for he'll add from 15 to 20 victories to our pitching staff."

"He'll mean as much to us as Bill Dickey meant to the Yankees."

Tom Hamilton To Coach '46 Middie Team

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 22.—(P)—Popular Tom Hamilton, Navy football coach from 1934-36 and a star of Naval Academy teams 20 years ago, will coach the Middie again.

Announcement that Capt. Thomas J. Hamilton would continue in the Navy's graduate system coaching policy was made yesterday by Vice Admiral Aubrey W. Fitch, superintendent of the academy.

"Hamilton will be assisted by a staff of professional coaches to give the graduate system continuity," Fitch said, "and it is anticipated that other graduate coaches will be ordered to round out the coaching staff."

Hamilton is now on the Pacific coast, but will come here for the spring football practice, which begins March 1, Fitch said. Since December 1, 1945, Hamilton has er Walker Cooper from the St. Louis Cardinals for $175,000, Ott said, "makes us a definite first division club for he'll add from 15 to 20 victories to our pitching staff."

"He'll mean as much to us as Bill Dickey meant to the Yankees."

Is 1946, first full peacetime year after World War II, fated to follow the pattern of 1919, first peacetime year after World War I, when an all-time peak of strikes was reached? With a million men idle in its first three weeks, 1946 threatens to prove an even more serious strike year. Chart above compares number of workers affected in World War I's time with the present situation.

New York, Jan. 22—(P)—Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the United States Steel Corp., said today the industry met the United Steel Workers "more than half way" in wage negotiations and that responsibility for the strike "rests with the union."

Chicago, Jan. 22—(P)—One big meat packing company said it "sees no warrant for a fishing expedition" and two other companies reserved the right to disagree with government findings as fact-finding hearings opened today in the nationwide meat strike.

Philadelphia, Jan. 22—(P)—The temperature dived seven degrees in one hour today, heralding what is expected to be perhaps the most severe cold wave of the winter. It was 19 at noon.

Moscow, Jan. 22—(P)—The official Soviet news agency Tass today accused the United States military command in southern Korea of inspiring "reactionary" protests against the Moscow conference of foreign ministers.

Mexico City, Jan. 22—(P)—Be sieged police fired on a crowd last night and killed one man and wounded two others in Ciudad Victoria, capital of Tamaulipas, after demonstrators had sacked the police station and burned police records.

Washington, Jan. 22—(P)—The house labor committee today approved a modified version of President Truman's proposal for fact-finding boards to handle major industrial disputes.

The 10 to 8 vote came after the committee had rejected, 13 to 5, a motion to approve without change the legislation asked by Mr. Truman.

A measure accepted by the group was drafted by Rep. Landis (R-Ind). It would set up the fact-finding boards but would not give them the power to subpoena witnesses, books and records.

It also would eliminate a section banning strikes for 30 days while the boards deliberate.

Both the subpoena power and the "cooling off" period had been urged by the president.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—(P)—Auditor General G. Harold Wagner eliminated himself as a possible candidate for the U. S. senate but left the way open today to seek the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Wagner, whose intentions have been the cause of much speculation, said in a statement he definitely is not a candidate for U. S. senator in opposition to Sen. Joseph F. Guffey, who is expected to seek renomination.

Asked if his statement on the senatorship means he will back Guffey in the primary, Wagner said he had no comment on that.

"I cannot answer that yet," he added to a further question whether he will run for governor. "The answer to that lies with the state leaders and the workers back home in all 67 counties."

He explained the statement was issued because of many inquiries as to whether he would file as a candidate for the senate following application for blank nomination petitions in his name at the state elections bureau.

Quash the Wolf Outside Their Door

(Drawn for Victory Clothing Collection by F. O. Alexander, Philadelphia Bulletin.)

Commentator Pleases With
News - Views

The world at his fingertips seems the best description to apply to John B. Hughes after hearing his "News and Views" at First Methodist church's Founders Hall, first number of the Warren Talk-of-the-Month Club schedule for this season.

Mr. Hughes is widely-traveled and well-read, his address presenting his own interpretation of the day's headlines in a manner easy to listen to and just as easy to understand.

Introduced by Frank Wood, president of First Methodist Men's Class, the speaker talked not so much of the war just ended as of the events that might make news in the future, possibilities and probabilities of World War III in the light of today's known facts. Taking in turn the spots to which alarmists point, he discussed the possibilities of trouble with Russia because of her interest in her next-door neighbors; trouble over the oil interests in Palestine; in Asia, between Chinese Communists and Nationalists, or the Japanese still in China.

Coming to the colonies of the Asiatic area, Mr. Hughes pointed out that our own handling of the Philippine situation has literally "put us on the spot" and these colonial possessions of the British and Dutch are now looking to us for leadership in securing their own independence. Referring again to China, he stressed some of the reasons why that country is going to have a tremendous influence on the rest of the world in the next few years.

In his closing remarks, Mr. Hughes referred to the threats imposed by discovery of the atom bomb, but quoted a leading scientist who believes that the greatest threat to humanity lies in the twin dangers of poverty and disease, against which World War III must be fought.

The speaker had ready answers for a number of questions put to him by the audience at the close of his address.

Tuberculosis
Work Started

The 1946 program of the Warren County Tuberculosis Society is under way, according to a statement made today by Guy McKinley, president.

This program of tuberculosis prevention and health promotion is made possible by the Christmas Seal sale conducted during the holidays. Reports from other sections of the state indicate, he said, that the sum raised locally is below par with funds raised in other communities.

He urged that residents who have not yet made their returns to the association do so promptly.

"A number of people found, in going over their holiday mail," he continued, "that they had not answered the letter enclosing seals which was forwarded in November. They promptly sent money for the seals, which brought us nearer our goal. Some residents have not yet responded, and we hope they will do so even at this date."

50 years ago

We were very young; in fact, we were born in the year 1896, making us fifty years old now. The picture you see above was our picture then. We had our being in what was then known as the Hoffman Block, which stood where Kresge's now stands. We were rather small then, as all infants are; we occupied but one floor of that building. Even so, people drove from miles around to our opening. We had silks and taffetas, muslins and laces, rich brocades and alpacas, corsets and bustles, corset covers and petticoats in fact, fifty years ago we started right out being the fashion center of Warren, just as we are today.

FIFTY years ago, there were no paved streets, no automobiles; those who had carriages, drove, those who didn't, walked to do their buying. Those who lived out of town drove their horses and tied them at our hitching posts. Customers thought nothing of driving in from Kinzua, Sugar Grove, Tidioute, Sheffield, and many other places farther away to buy material for a new dress or coat. They knew they could find what they wanted at this store.

Yes, we are proud to be fifty years old in the merchandise business. It means that you have had faith in our integrity. Fifty years ago we were small—we have grown, but you will find that we

Chapter 21

AS the days passed Edith felt the rift between herself and her father growing. They had not talked together again, but Edith had been troubled and uneasy because of some of the things Whit had said that night. That in spite of Laura's training, she was really like him, that underneath she could be as unkind and cruel as her father. Her being recoiled from such a thought, yet she could not deny that her ability to lash out at her father was something that worked with too great a facility to have been recently acquired.

The knowledge of her love for Burk Angus did not bring much satisfaction, either, since it seemed to her that she had been lying to herself, even in church.

She had a long letter from Chris, the first he had written since his marriage to Laura. It was full of news and nonsense and lifted from her heart any doubt of her feeling about him. Chris was dear, but he was someone she had known in another world—a world which had not known Burk Angus—and she could look on him now with no fear of difficulty in their relationship. She came to see, too, that the part of Laura that belonged to her could never belong to Chris or anyone else. She could go back now at any time knowing that she and her mother could be as intimate, as understanding, as close as they had been before Chris had come between them. Sometimes the longing to see Laura, to tell her all the troubles that worried her, to hear her calm, poised voice giving invaluable counsel was almost more than she could bear. But she stayed on—knowing that she was a real help and comfort to Barbara—that the others wanted her to stay—and hoping against hope that somehow she might win Burk Angus' love and respect.

On one of the infrequent evenings when Whit elected to stay at home, they all gathered on the big front veranda as twilight began to fall. Barbara, contented and happy with Whit at home, stretched out comfortably on a wicker lounge. Josie strained her eyes over a bit of dainty sewing for the baby. Old Eugenia nodded in her chair. Edith, playing with Whit's spaniel, Rosie, on the steps, saw Jake coming around the corner of the house.

"Mist' Whit," he called. "Lawson say for you to come down to the stables right away. He say one of the horses done got sick."

Whit threw down his paper, disgustedly. "A man can't even read the newspaper in peace. What's Lawson for, anyway? Can't he take care of a horse's stomach-ache?"

"If Gallant Lady feels like having visitors later, let me know." She watched her father striding out of the room, realizing that tonight for the first time in many weeks, he was like the man she first met. Oh, if he could only be like this always, what a different place Roselands might be!

The hours dragged on. The second vet came and joined the first around Gallant Lady. Edith thought, "Whit's forgotten me. Maybe I'd better go back to the house." But she stayed on. She thought the cries of the little mare were growing weaker—perhaps, though, she was only suffering less. Finally the cries ceased altogether. An ominous stillness settled over the stables.

Which Edith could bear the terrible silence, she could not bear the silence. She went out into the stable and looked at the mare. She looked tired and unhappy.

"Gallant Lady—?" she began. "She just—couldn't make it!" Whit said grimly, his mouth a tight line. Edith knew that Gallant Lady had been a great favorite with him.

"Oh, I'm so terribly sorry!" After a moment, he said, "We saved the colt, though. Want to see the little fellow?"

In the stall a checkered blanket had been thrown carefully over the mare and in a corner a spindly-legged colt wavered uncertainly. "He may not look like much now," Whit said, keeping his eyes carefully away from the blanket, "but he'll be a champion. Bound to be with the parentage he's got!"

"He's a darling!" Edith answered, her eyes suddenly misting. She rubbed the little wet nose with a diffident finger.

She and Whit walked silently back to the house a few moments later. She knew he was too preoccupied to talk now and in the days that followed she often wondered what they might have said to each other that night. Would they, perhaps, have reached a better understanding?

"You did exactly right!" Whit said, forgetting his charge against Lawson of being over-cautious. He was particularly fond of the little mare, Gallant Lady. "Wait here in the office, Edith. I'll see what's doing."

Chapter 22

BOB LAWSON said, "Miss Edith, I really believe the little fellow knows you!"

Edith smiled in delight and ran her hand lovingly over the silky chestnut mane of Gallant Lady's colt. It was true! The colt did know her, for in the weeks that had followed his birth and his mother's tragic death in the accomplishment, she had gone every day to see him. It was almost unbelievable the way he had grown. Now he nuzzled against her side and playfully pushed her across the grass.

"Will you look? He wants to play!"

"He's as lively as they come. Why don't you ask your father to give him to you?"

Edith's eyes sparkled. "Do you suppose he would?"

"Confidentially, I heard him say 'a' might."

Whit had been thinking, "If I give her the colt, maybe she will want to stay. Maybe she'd enjoy having a hand in his training—see him on the track!" Not even to himself did he acknowledge how much Edith's presence meant to him. That bond which they had both recognized was deeper than Edith had ever realized.

Now Edith said, "If I didn't expect to go back to New York soon, I'd talk to my father about it. I certainly would love to call this little fellow my own!"

"I'm sorry to hear you talk of leaving, Miss Edith," Lawson said. "You've been a real help with the colt."

Edith smiled at the earnest young man. "Thanks, Lawson, but it's been your care that has caused him to get along so well."

She was unprepared for Bob Lawson's expressions of gratitude. "It's swell of you to say that, Miss Edith. I hope your father thinks I'm doing okay. I mean to go as far as I can as a trainer. It's a real opportunity to work here. I want to do the best I know how!"

"You're doing a fine job, Lawson. I know my father thinks so, and I'll tell him I think so, too!"

Lawson blushed a bright red. In the weeks he had known Edith Lacey, he had been living in a little dream world of his own. He saw himself successful, prosperous, even famous—placing it all at her feet.

"Do you know where a stable boy is? I'd like to get Nancy saddled. I feel like riding her this morning."

"I'll do it for you myself. Just wait here and I'll bring her around."

"Thanks Lawson, if you're sure I'm not keeping you from anything else."

"No trouble at all, Miss Edith," he assured her. "I'll bring her around in a jiffy!"

When she was seated on Nancy's broad back, Edith wondered just where she was going. She felt entirely at loose ends this morning.

SHE rode Nancy down the turnpike knowing quite well that Burk Angus' farm lay in this direction and that just over the next hill she would come in view of his broad acres. What did she hope to gain by simply riding by his house?

Burk was in his tobacco fields today, overseeing the work of topping the plants. He had been unable to get sufficient help for the work which should have been done a week ago, until he learned he could get German prisoner la-
